

Hosting a Workplace Food Drive

Thank you for your willingness to help those in need! Holding a food drive in your workplace is a fantastic way to foster teamwork while supporting a meaningful cause. With a bit of planning and organization, you can maximize participation and donations – and do the most good! Below is a list of helpful tips to guide you through the process.

Coordinate with United Way of NNY:

- Contact us to let us know that you plan to host a drive. We are here to help! We have promotional materials such as flyers and posters. We can even get boxes if needed.

Set Clear Goals:

- Determine the objectives of the food drive, such as the amount of food you aim to collect, and establish a timeline for the food drive, with a clear end date before June 4, 2025.

Plan Promotion:

- Share posters, flyers, and other digital communications to promote the food drive; hang posters around the workplace.
- Utilize internal communication channels like email newsletters, bulletin boards, or company intranet to spread the word, as well as external communications like your social media channels.
- Consider incentives or competitions to encourage participation, such as team goals or recognition for top donors.

Designate Collection Points:

- Select convenient, high traffic locations within the workplace where employees can drop off their donations and ensure these areas are clearly marked and easily accessible.

Educate About Accepted Items:

- Share the list of non-perishable food items that are in high demand.
- Offer guidelines on acceptable donations (e.g., unopened, non-expired items)
- Encourage employees to donate healthy, nutritious items and/or personal care products.

Track Progress:

- Keep track of the donations received to gauge progress towards your goals; consider using a visible tracking system, such as the thermometer graphic, to motivate employees.
- Once your drive has ended, fill out the Food Drive Donation form with the item total.

Arrange Delivery for Event Day:

- Plan to deliver the donated items to the Walmart Supercenter (located at 20823 State Route 3 in Watertown, NY) on June 4, 2025 between the hours of 8 AM and 2 PM.
- Bring the completed Food Drive Donation form and come ready with your team for photo and social media promotional opportunities.
